NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY IMPRESSIVE CANDLE-LIGHT SERVICE

HANNA TOASTMASTER

Concluded New President; After Dinner Built Around Alice In Wonderland

New members were inducted into the high school National Honor Society during an impressive candle-light service at the home of George Garrett Wednesday night. The dinner was enjoyed by the members and guests of the dinner which included Hanna, president; Evelyn Bartlett, secretary; Evelyn Anna Moore, and Edith Lee, as seniors who were elected to the society in their junior year and charge of the initiation.

Following the dinner a theme from "Alice in Wonderland." The time theme (the Walrus said) to talk things—of shoes, and ships, sailing wax, of cabbages and kings. Those responding to Danny's toast master, were Superintendent and Principal Bishop of the faculty, Marguerite Erdman the alumni, William Shelton the new members, and Moore from the senior members.

Fifth year students selected by faculty this year on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, service, include the following: Brooks, Jane Smith, Anna Eitel, Elizabeth Schoenman, Roy Veselinovich, Mary Ann Newgent, Williams, and Sarah McCurry. Senior class members are Charles E. incoming president; William J. secretary-treasurer; Mary E. Sheridan, Madonna Call, Christian McClure. Faculty sponsors are Supt. Paul H. Principal William Bishop, Lois Fraley, Miss Helen McCreary, and H. A. Thomas.

BERG'S RECITAL SHOWED DEVELOPMENT

Herman Berg presented a program of unusual selections at her violin recital Tuesday night at Harry Hall and showed mature development in each one. The program was accompanied by her father and included a variety of pieces, and also difficult ones. The program included "Tango" by Castelnuovo-Tedesco, a volatile composition demands much strength and from the violinist. Mrs. Berg displayed both these qualities, displaying particular talent in the peace-antimovement and a popular style in the final allegro movement.

Berg opened her program with Dvorak's Sonata, opus 109, a selection which she gave interpretation. She immediately revealed a pure tone and a clean characteristic of her playing. Several modern numbers made up the last portion of her recital, including Suk's "Appassionata," a piece particularly enjoyed by the audience. The program was concluded by Jacobini, one, "Les Furies," a vital fragment of musical charm. The old sequence of "Tango" by Castelnuovo-Tedesco completed the program.

Berg is the daughter of Dr. Denman Thompson, director of DePauw Music School.

PARADE AT CLOVERDALE SATURDAY

There will be a Pet Parade at Cloverdale, Saturday afternoon, May 26, at 1:00 o'clock. Thirty prizes will be awarded to those who have the most attractive pets in the parade, or those who are judged the best actors, and so on. Anyone who owns a pet, is invited to enter it in the show, Saturday.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TO BE HELD AT CLOVERDALE

Memorial Day services will be held at the Cloverdale cemetery, Saturday afternoon, May 30, at 2 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Belle Union band. The speakers for the program will be Mr. Donus Denney and Rev. Gil McCamack.

CENSUS FIGURES GIVE CLOVERDALE INCREASE

Census figures released this morning give Cloverdale a population of 657 in the 1940 census, contrasted with 627 in the census of ten years ago. This bears out the claim of residents of that town that there has been an increase in population there, although the increase is not as large as was expected.

The report on Roachdale leaves its population figure at 737 in the new census, contrasted to 631 in 1930.

Although the definite figures of the population of Greencastle have not been released, it is reported this figure will be above 5,000, a considerable increase from the 4,613 of the 1930 census.

FIGURES LOW ON PROPERTY, PIERCE SAYS

BIG ITEM OF LOSS IN VALUES IN SWINE BUT INCREASE IN AUTOMOBILES

NOT ALL RETURNS COMPILED

Roachdale and Russellville Are Horseless Towns; Very Few Mules in the County

"Not all of the returns of the assessors have been compiled yet, but I know the total personal property figures for this year will be less than they were last year," said Robert L. Pierce, county assessor, today.

The big item of loss in values is in swine, but a big increase is in automobiles and trucks—contrasting 1940's figures with those for 1939.

The loss in swine values is not due to decrease in numbers but to a slump in value. This year, the assessors found 7,212 sows in the county which were valued for taxation purposes at $99,579, but last year, the 6,132 sows were considered worth $160,534. "Other hogs" this year were listed at 26,523 in number and were valued at $107,370. Last year, the 23,373 head of such animals were rated at a total of $148,606.

Automobiles and trucks jumped to 4,512 in number this year from 4,254 last year. The rural areas this year had 2,881 of these, and the towns had 1,631. Last year, the rural motor vehicles numbered 2,891 and the towns last year had 1,363.

Farm implements this year are worth $101,514; last year, $110,580. The assessors report Roachdale and Russellville to be horseless towns this year. Greencastle city has 9, Bainbridge and Cloverdale one each, of these animals. However, the Cloverdale horse is taxed at $90 and that in Bainbridge at $20. The average horse value in Greencastle city is $79.

There are 3,501 horses in rural Putnam, this year, and last year there were 3,262. There is a corresponding loss in horse values this year over those of last year. This year, the total horse values are $183,809. Last year, $219,176. Mules do not exist this year in Cloverdale nor Russellville, nor Greencastle nor Roachdale. Bainbridge has two of them. The total number in the county is 1.

EVERETT JONES' EXPERIENCES IN THE ARMIES OF UNITED STATES ARE VARIED

The experiences of Everett W. Jones, Greencastle business man and a native of this city, in the armies of the United States were more varied, it is probable, than those of any other army veterans now living here. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, the campaign in the Philippines, the Boxer Rebellion in China, and the World War. He had part in three battles and fourteen engagements of historical importance, not counting innumerable skirmishes and fighting of less importance. He is the son of the late W. W. Jones, and a nephew of the late Miss Emma Jones, both names very familiar to Greencastle residents a generation ago.

Mr. Jones, like many other of those who actually participated in the titanic struggle in Europe, more than twenty-five years ago, does not talk much of the contests of that day, but, in an interview with The Daily Banner this week, he was induced to go into some detail concerning the bloody battle at Tien Tsin, China, July 2, 1900, which was a part of the Boxer Rebellion campaign, in which American, British, French, and Russian troops had parts. Mr. Jones, partly because of his participation in that campaign, served at different times under French, Ger-

PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN AT FOREST HILL

WILL BE HELD AT PRINCIPAL TOWNS OF COUNTY AS PREVIOUSLY ANNOUNCED

PROGRAMS WELL ATTENDED

Putnam County Had Close Connection With Erection of Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument

Memorial Day services will be held at the principal towns of the county, at the cemeteries if the weather permits, unless announcement to the contrary is made prior to that day.

The exercises at these places in past years have been well attended and well carried out.

The program at Forest Hill cemetery, Greencastle, will be given at the Soldiers' Monument, if possible. This monument is a memorial to the soldier dead of Putnam county. It stands at the crest of the slope down toward the north, the monument overlooking the graves of many veterans of all wars whose remains have been interred there, most of them the resting places of Civil War dead, but there is an area occupied by Spanish war veterans who have passed on, and World War men. The small bronze cannons which stand at the four corners of the soldiers' lot were made nearly a hundred years ago—in 1845 and '46. N. P. Ames was the iron founder who cast at least two of them, at Springfield, Mass.

The soldiers' monument was designed by Thomas D. Jones, a Cincinnati sculptor. Funds for its erection were raised by a county-wide committee known as "The Putnam County Soldiers' Monument Association," headed by Colonel John R. Mahan, with William D. Allen treasurer and David W. Jones secretary. The soldier's figure in heroic size stands on a pedestal eight feet high on whose sides are panels bearing the inscribed names of 320 Civil War dead of the county.

The monument was dedicated July 2, 1870, Richard W. Thompson of Terre Haute being the orator. Conrad Baker, governor of Indiana, also spoke, as did Delana E. Williamson, of Greencastle, then attorney general of the state.

Putnam county also had a close connection with the erection of the widely famed Soldiers' and Sailors' monument which stands in the center of the Circle at Indianapolis. The idea of the great memorial was born in the mind of George J. Langsdale, former editor and owner of The Putnam Banner. He headed the association which finally succeeded in raising the funds needed for the great work. A group of singers known as the Putnam Banner quartet accompanied him on his canvassing trips over the state, helping very much in arousing the enthusiasm of the people of the state for the project. A Greencastle citizen, Thomas McIntosh, was superintendent of construction of the monument during a part of the time it was being erected.

THOSE ELECTED FROM PUTNAM COUNTY NOT INSTRUCTED AS TO HOW TO VOTE

Delegates from Putnam county to the Republican state convention and party workers to a large number were in Indianapolis today to attend the state gathering of their party. The convention will be held at the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds. Delegates elected by the Republicans in the primary were Charles Hanna, Joe B. Williams, Clarence Goff, Bert Brattain, Fred Hunter, Leland Torr, Henry Woodall, Jesse McCoy, Thad Jones, C. C. Tucker, Robert Stoner, Frank Vaughn and Simpson Stoner.

Putnam county has no favorite son in the convention, and the delegates are completely free to vote for any candidate preferred by them for any of the offices for which candidates are to be nominated.

PUBLISHER OF NEWS DIES IN CALIFORNIA

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 23 (UP)—Frederick C. Fairbanks, publisher of The Indianapolis News and son of the late vice president Charles W. Fairbanks, died here late yesterday.

Fairbanks, whose father was vice president under Theodore Roosevelt, established a home at La Jolla several months ago after an operation in Temple University hospital. His health had not been good since, and he was brought to a hospital when his condition became serious.

He is survived by Mrs. Fairbanks; a daughter, Mrs. David Stone of Indianapolis, and a son, Charles Warren Fairbanks of Redlands, Cal.

Hillis And Jenner Running Close Race

OTHER CANDIDATES HOPE FOR DEADLOCK AND COMMITTEE PROMISE TO EMERGE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—(UP)—The 1,937 delegates to the Republican state convention arrived here today to settle one of the hottest fights over the nomination for governor in the party's history, select a state ticket and 28 national convention delegates and adopt the platform.

While interest in the six-cornered contest for governor overshadowed everything else, another skirmish is taking place for the four national convention delegates-at-large, with the possibility that former U. S. Senator James E. Watson might not be selected as one.

Tonight the delegates will caucus by districts in rooms at the state-house and Claypool hotel. They will select committee members and the two national convention delegates from each district. They also will exchange notes on the prospects of the various candidates and then be subjected to the final hotel room pressure of the campaign managers.

Glen Hillis of Kokomo and State Senator William E. Jenner of Shoals are entering the stretch today neck and neck, with four other candidates for governor vying for a deadlock between them from which a compromise will emerge. Judge James A. Emmert of Shelbyville looms as the strongest alternate since it was reported freely in the Claypool hotel halls and lobby that Emmert has more second choice commitments than any other candidate.

There also was the possibility that David I. Hogg of Fort Wayne might drop from the race even before the opening gong tomorrow. At a late hour yesterday he had not posted the $1,000 entry fee and there was doubt that he had sufficient delegate support to influence the outcome of the contest.

The other two candidates are George Jeffrey of Indianapolis, who is hoping for the compromise lightning to strike him, and Clarence Bena-

20 Years Ago IN GREENCASTLE

At the exercises naming the Third Ward school in honor of Martha Ridpath, Miss Susie Talbott gave greetings from the school; Edwin Black read an original poem (believe it or not); Heber Ellis and Harry Moore were members of the quartet that sang, accompanied by Bernice Craig.

LOCAL WOMAN PASSED AWAY AT HER HOME

MISS LILLIAN EMMA SOUTHARD HAD BEEN ILL WITH FORM OF HEART TROUBLE

WAS BORN IN TERRE HAUTE

Began Her Connection With Greencastle Public Schools As A Teacher In 1885

Miss Lillian Emma Southard, 78 years of age who began teaching in public schools 57 years ago, died at her home at 2 Seminary Court, this city, Wednesday evening. She had been ill with a form of heart trouble for some time, and her death was due to that cause.

Miss Southard, although a resident of Greencastle the greater part of her life, was not a native of this city. She was born in Terre Haute, July 17, 1862, but began her connection with the Greencastle public schools as a teacher in 1885, continuing in the grade schools in that relationship until in 1894. Before that, she had taught two school years at Wabash, this state, 1883-1885.

She became an instructor in the Greencastle High School in 1894, and taught in that institution for many years, retiring in 1924.

Miss Southard was graduated from DePauw University with the class of 1883, with the degree of bachelor of philosophy, and later she earned her master's degree. She was president of the Society of Alumni of DePauw in 1917-18. She was awarded Phi Beta Kappa honors at the recent founder anniversary meeting held at DePauw University and was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Goble Memorial Methodist church. Dr. McClure will be in charge of the services. Friends may call at the Rector Funeral Home Friday and Saturday until 9:30 a. m.

Palbearers will be Fred O'Hair, Harry Wells, Leon Welch, Sam Hanna, D. W. Killinger and Russell Alexander.

Girl Scouts Need More Campships

NEEDY GIRLS CAN ATTEND CAMP FRIENDLY IF MONEY PROVIDED

After a successful attempt last season in running Camp Friendly at McCormick's Creek State Park a campaign is being put on by the local council of Girl Scouts to open Camp Friendly every year for at least a two weeks period. The period this year will be from June 12 to June 26. This will mean that instead of the campers leaving for camps maintained by other councils they have their own camp and camp grounds which they will visit and improve each year, making a permanent camp.

$1000 Is County's Share In Red Cross

E. R. BARTLEY RECEIVED WIRE; CONTRIBUTIONS TO BE LEFT AT EITHER BANK

E. R. Bartley, chairman of the Putnam County Red Cross, is in receipt of word from national headquarters, stating that Putnam's share of the $10,000,000 fund to be raised by the Red Cross, is $1,000, and contributions are to be left at either of the Greencastle banks. The need is urgent as can be seen by the following telegram received today by Mr. Bartley:

With the invasion of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg the war has entered a phase which will inevitably and at once bring widespread and appalling suffering to millions of helpless men, women and children. In order to inaugurate widespread relief measures the American Red Cross is at once launching a campaign for a minimum war relief fund of ten million dollars. Your chapter quota is 1,000 dollars please at once mobilize the entire leadership of your chapter and community in order that your quota may be raised and exceeded without delay. Chapters may retain fifteen percent of collections to cover their local war relief expenses. Letter of instructions follows.

Italy's Demands On Democracies Have Been Almost Double As Result Of War In Which She Regards Herself As A Moral Ally Of Germany, According To Informed Quarters.

By Reynolds Packard

ROME, May 23.—(UP)—Italy's demands on the democracies have been almost doubled as a result of the war in which she regards herself as a moral ally of Germany, well informed political quarters said today.

The increased demands were said to include control of French Tunisia, where before Italy sought only special status for Italians; virtual dominance of the Suez Canal, where previously Italy had sought only a share in stockholders bonds equal to those of Britain and France; Italian control of all Somaliland, where before she asked only a free port at Djibouti.

Complete control of the island of Malta where the British Mediterranean base is located, was demanded in the press. The Gibraltar situation was uncertain but I was assured that Italy intends to ask for Spanish control of the British fort as long as Spain continues her present pro-axis policy.

Italy's new thesis appeared to be that her aspirations could no longer be regarded as the same as those before the war but must now be considered in the light that Italy is morally engaged in the war alongside Germany.

According to information gathered in Fascist party circles and in quarters which are aware of the new developments in Italian foreign policy, Italy has stepped up her demands because the problems are "no longer within evolution, but henceforth are within the domain of revolution."

Italy was said to be willing to fight for these demands. And if a peace settlement is possible, she intends to sit at the conference table and insist on her demands as strongly as if she were a belligerent, it was said.

King Victor Emmanuel marked the first anniversary of the signing of the Rome-Berlin pact yesterday by conferring on German Field Marshal Hermann Goering the decoration "holy annunciation." It is the highest Italian decoration and makes Goering a "cousin" of King Victor.

Premier Benito Mussolini telegraphed congratulations to Goering, saying the decoration was conferred "as recognition of your work for strengthening the bonds between Germany and Italy."

Trostle Tells Of Growth Of Store

MANAGER OF LOCAL G. C. MURPHY STORE SPOKE AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Interspersed with humorous incidents, the talk given by Ed Trostle on his personal experiences and the growth of the G. C. Murphy Co., was thoroughly enjoyed by the Greencastle Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon on Wednesday, May 22nd.

Of particular interest were Mr. Trostle's comments on the remarkable growth of the Murphy chain of stores. Beginning with the first store located in McKeesport, Pennsylvania, the company started its expansion in 1911 under its president, John S. Mack, until it has reached a total of 202 stores east of the Mississippi and concentrated entirely in the northeastern section of the country. Mr. Trostle also discussed the liberal and progressive labor policy that is extended to the employees numbering over 10,000.

It is planned to have vocational talks by members of the club at various meetings. Such talks are instructive and are enjoyed by the members.

DIRECTORS, COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the committee chairmen at the College Inn Friday noon at 12 o'clock.

PARIS, May 23.—(UP)—French shock troops have fought their way to the outskirts of Cambrai in the opening phase of a savage, big scale battle in the Cambrai-Valenciennes sector, it was asserted today.

Fighting was described as the wildest and most violent nature, with the French and Germans engaged in running battles. Cambrai, it was said, was the central point of the melee.

French troops had lost ground north of Cambrai yesterday morning, a military informant said. They counter-attacked fiercely in the afternoon and regained their hold.

This, an informant said, was the beginning of "the battle of Flouers"—the long awaited battle in which it was expected that the main allied and German armies would meet finally in a gigantic frontal battle, one which it was taken for granted would be decisive.

PARIS, May 23.—(UP)—Anti-aircraft batteries went into action in the Paris area at 9:25 a. m. today (4:25 a. m. EDT).

LONDON, May 23.—(UP)—The air ministry reported today that one Royal Air Force fighter group shot down 27 German planes and probably disabled 10 others out of action in fighting over France and Belgium yesterday.

PARIS, May 23.—(UP)—Allied and German armies organized today for a gigantic battle in the Somme valley which, with upwards of 2,000,000 men involved, the leaders believed would be decisive.

Supply columns moved steadily toward the front on both sides under a hail of bombs and machine gun bullets.

Wild, disorganized fights were going on at many places, so many and in such bewildering fashions that the high command of none of the armies were receiving, for the moment, detailed reports which could be collated to give a real picture of the entire situation.

Allied authorities said the situation from their viewpoint was very serious still. But the general tone of comment was decidedly more optimistic than it had been and it seemed certain that again, if only for a short time, the German blitzkrieg had slowed to walking pace.

There were completely unconfirmed reports that the French had retaken not only Arras but Amiens and Sedan. The authorities, determined that no false hopes should be aroused by premature claims, deprecated the reports and preferred to await some big development that might show a general trend in the fighting.

It did seem clear now, however, that so far whatever grip the Germans had obtained on the channel coast at the mouth of the Somme was a weak one, a grip exerted by a handful of motorcycle specialists.

ANSWER TO LONDON IS SARCASTIC

WAS LUNCHEON COMPANION OF ROOSEVELT'S AT WHITE HOUSE WEDNESDAY

WASHINGTON, May 23—(UP)—President Roosevelt and former Gov. Alf M. Landon, the comparatively friendly enemies of 1936, are swinging their Sunday punches today with brass knuckles in every glove.

They were luncheon companions at mid-day yesterday and conferred for 110 minutes over the White House tray. Half a dozen hours later Landon had called for Mr. Roosevelt to renounce a third term and the president had countered with a third person acknowledgment that had a barb in every line.

Republicans are ready to enter a national defense coalition in exchange for Mr. Roosevelt's renunciation of renomination and a voice in administration policies, Landon informed a press conference some time after his White House luncheon.

"The President regrets that he has no time, just now, to give the preparation of political statements," the White House replied some three hours later.

Landon explained at his press conference that he had not been offered a cabinet position and that the third term issue had not come up at the White House luncheon except casually. The meeting of the two men had all the form and none of the substance of a conference between leaders of two great political parties, nothing at all is expected of it in the way of guns or airplanes. But the third term issue has landed back in the midst of the national defense emergency.

"He is too busily engaged with problems of far greater national importance," the White House statement in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt continued in response to Landon's statement.

"He is, however, very grateful to the ex-Governor of Kansas, who was his luncheon guest today, for the suggestions contained in the statement the governor has written for the press.

Everyone plans to eye that second ballot tomorrow, taking it for granted that the first will show some complimentary votes and not be a true test of strength. Hillis' peak is expected to be reached on the second ballot and if there is any recession thereafter, most observers here believe he's through. Where the Hillis delegates will go if he falls short is doubtful, except that they won't be tossed to Jenner. In the event of a deadlock, the best guess is that Hillis' votes will go to Jeffrey and the Jenner votes to Emmert.
The nomination for U. S. senator is expected to go to Raymond E. Willis of Angola, the party's 1935 senatorial nominee, almost by default.

KROGER EMPLOYEES TO RECEIVE VACATIONS
Nearly 17,000 employees of the Kroger company will receive vacations with pay this year, A. W. Metzger, branch manager in charge of Kroger stores in this area, announced today.
This represents an increase of 2,000 over the number eligible for vacations in 1939, due to further liberalization of the firm's policy, Metzger explained.
Approximately 680 Indianapolis branch employees are included in the list of those eligible for one to two weeks of vacation for 1940, he said.
"It has been the custom of the Kroger company for many years to provide vacations with pay for its employees. Last year the length of service requirement was reduced so that every employee with as much as
